AN IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Business men of the county, manufacturers, and all who are engaged in any way in any enterprise that they desire to have come before the people of the State, should secure space in the columns of the Industrial Edition of the Gainesville Daily Sun, which will print a very attractive edition of 20,000 copies, to be distributed at the State Midwinter Fair at Tampa, November 15th to 30th, with the exception of a few hundred copies that will be retained here for our local patrons.

This edition will set forth the advantages of Alachua county in every detail, showing up her resources, and will be an excellent medium in which owners of land over the county can place their advertisements to bring them before those who are looking for a place to settle.

The city of Gainesville will also be prominently mentioned in this edition, and there will be printed many fine illustrations of its beautiful homes, public buildings and the natural beauty of the city and surrounding country. It is the intention of the publisher to have an illustration of the State University buildings, if the plans can be secured in time.

Every city and hamlet in the county should make an effort to see that their interests are represented. Every professional man in the county should have his name and profession in this edition, which will be a county directory of the business and professional men.

The space reserved for advertising will be limited and those wishing to take advantage of this excellent opportunity should address H. H. McCreary, Publisher, Gainesville, Fla.

The project of holding the Pure Food and Industrial Exposition in Jacksonville should be made a permanent thing each winter. The location of a substantial building for the purpose would be an excellent advertisement for Jacksonville and the whole State of Florida. Such an exhibition would be visited by thousands of people passing through the city.

Paul Morton, president of the Florida Life Assurance Association, says that hereafter this aggregation of that promoters will refuse to contribute to campaign funds. When they do so they lied about it, and it is an effort for them to lie about what they will do in the future.

President Roosevelt says he is not afraid of yellow fever and may visit Jacksonville in October. If he should happen to go down with yellow fever he would not find it so easy to get up with the Plunger.

Chief Pain-in-the-Face, the Indian who claimed he killed General Custer at Standing Rock reservation September 12th. He should be put in a hole-in-the-ground, where he and his kind can be found.

The Atlanta Constitution says that "Bobby" might try his sanctimonious in Atlanta. He could if he had permission of the city council, or if it was a violation of the law.

THE PINDAR CROP.

The government statisticians have just issued a very interesting document on the ground-pea or pindar, called by the United States report the "peanut." It does not matter about the name, however, so long as we are made aware of the good qualities of this growing product. It is sold over the land in large quantities, taking the place of salted almonds in many instances, used between the acts at theaters and between heats at races, and is said to be the only article that will effectively take away a whiskey breath and leave a very pleasant nutty aroma. A five-cent sack of roasted pindars will save a large amount of explanations when eaten just before going home late at night, as they absorb the alcohol in the stomach and send a man home in a sober state.

The peanut vines are also good for a fodder crop, and are grown for that purpose as well. At the time the last census was taken there were 208,946 acres devoted to the culture of peanuts, and the data shows that the crop is steadily growing in popularity. If the vines are desired for hay, the government statistician sagely remarks, they should be hung on poles until thoroughly cured, after which they may be hauled to the barn. Peanut hay is worth $10 a ton, and the crop should be from one to three tons to the acre—not counting the value of the nuts themselves. On the whole, the government statisticians are inclined to wax enthusiastic about the possibilities of the succulent goober, both as a food for man and beast, and they likewise point out that there exists one or two communities which import peanuts from the South and export olive oil to all the world, which suggests that there are even greater possibilities in the goober than the South, which raises it, had suspected.

600,000 TEACHERS.

There were employed in the schools and colleges of the United States in 1903, 584,755 teachers. There were in all the public, private, professional and other schools, and in all the universities and colleges, 18,187,918 pupils or students, which would give one teacher to every thirty-three pupils. In the public schools there was one teacher to every thirty-seven pupils.

In a census bulletin just issued, Professor Walter F. Willcox of Cornell University, taking all persons between the ages of five and twenty-four as a basis of calculation, estimates that there is one teacher to every seventy-one persons of school age in the United States. This range in age includes the boys and girls in the several grades of the public schools, in the private schools corresponding to the elementary and high schools, and the young men and women in the colleges.

Blind tigers are no respecters of communities, and as they are probably led, owing to their affliction, are sometimes found in the jungles that have a license law. A few days ago one of these carnivora was found in Ybor City, and when cornered by the officers tried to escape punishment by offering the minions of the law a bribe. Tigers are no respecters of localities. They lurk where they can find anything to prey upon.

The law's delay is apparent in the Taggart divorce case, as the judge asks another week for his decision, and Mrs. Taggart may want to get married again before that time.

When the trusts quit contributing to the Republican corruption fund, we may expect a little tariff reform. But it must not have any Dingley connected with it.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

SUNSTROKES.

The man who sells straight tips on the stock market is sure of not losing.

The report that Admiral Rojensky has left the hospital is sufficient proof that the war is over.

The market report says that "money continues to work closer," yet it is not quite close enough to reach very easily.

We are enjoying so much prosperity in the land that we hardly have time to watch the thieving going on in high places.

Japan is all right. She wants our cotton and will help to keep up the price. The sales to that country have nearly doubled over the same time last year.

And now Chicago is infested with "pirates," who sail the high seas of Lake Michigan and prey upon the good things on board the pleasure yachts. The black flag on the water and red flag on land keeps Chicago policemen busy.

The house problem is getting to be a serious one in Gainesville. It is a hard matter to get good rooms located near the business center. If the prices continue to soar, it will be cheaper to build than rent, if you expect to spend the winter.

The report of Grand Sire Wright of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows shows that order to have a membership of 1,217,146 and the Rebekahs 474,059. The increase in membership for the year was 65,474 in the subordinate and 25,391 Rebekahs.

The astrologers have made some great weather blunders this year; also the prophets who don't depend so much on the stars. Both should have their licenses revoked. The weather bureau of the United States can spring enough surprises that can generally be depended on, without those other fellows who cause only worry at best.

Miami is not satisfied with the real thing and will establish an artificial stone factory.

Sick Headache

When your head aches, there is a storm in the nervous system, centering in the brain.

This irritation produces pain in the head, and the turbulent nerve current sent to the stomach causes nausea, vomiting.

This is sick headache, and is dangerous, as frequent and prolonged attacks weaken the brain, resulting in loss of memory, inflammation, epilepsy, fits, dizziness, etc.

Alay this stormy, irritated, aching condition by taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.

They stop the pain by soothing, strengthening and relieving the tension upon the nerves—not by paralyzing them, as do most headache remedies.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do not contain opium, morphine, chloral, cocaine or similar drugs.

"Sick headache is hereditary in my family. My father suffered a great deal, and for many years I have had spells that were so severe that I was unable to attend to my business affairs for a day or so at a time. During a very severe attack of headache, I took Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and they relieved me almost immediately. Since then I take them when I feel the spell coming on and it keeps it at bay."
